DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The listing of references in the specification is not a proper information disclosure statement. 37 CFR 1.98(b) requires a list of all patents, publications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office, and MPEP § 609.04(a) states, "the list may not be incorporated into the specification but must be submitted in a separate paper." Therefore, unless the references have been cited by the examiner on form PTO-892, they have not been considered.

Specification

2. The substitute specification submitted 09 August 2004 has not been entered insofar as it does not include a marked up copy showing the additions and/or deletions and the submission does not include a statement that no new matter has been included within the newly filed specification. See 37 CFR 1.125.

3. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it was not submitted on a separate page, includes the legal phraseology "said" in line 3 and is written as a run-on sentence, i.e. it is written in claim format. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In the last 2 lines in each of claims 1 and 2, consistent in diameter with the diameter of a "conventional" megaphone is unclear in scope since one cannot determine with a reasonable degree of accuracy what constitutes a “conventional” megaphone and thus what diameters are being claimed or excluded. The term “conventional” is dependent upon demographics (what is “conventional” in one area may not be “conventional” in another) and is subjective to the individual making the assessment (what one considers “conventional” may or may not be “conventional” to another person). The phrases are thus considered to be indefinite and do not particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102 and 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 1 and 2, as best understood in view of paragraph 4 above, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by DeBoer or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over DeBoer in view of Hanauska, Willbrandt or Phillips. DeBoer discloses all structure of the claimed device, as best understood, including a diameter at the smaller end which is consistent with a mouthpiece of a “conventional” megaphone, i.e. the megaphone of DeBoer is considered “conventional” to those who use it. Alternatively, DeBoer discloses all structure of the claimed device except a smaller diameter which is consistent with the diameter of a mouthpiece of a “conventional” megaphone, as best understood. Hanauska teaches that it is known to make the diameter of a convertible cup/megaphone with a diameter adequate for a human to enunciate through. Willbrandt teaches that it is known to make the smaller or lower diameter of a cup from about 2 and ¼ inches to about 2 and 5/8 inches to facilitate supporting the cup in a standard cup holder. Phillips teaches that it is known to make the bottom diameter of a cup at 2.531 inches. It would have been obvious to make the smaller diameter of the cup in DeBoer as taught by any one of Hanauska, Willbrandt or Phillips to allow the cup to be used as a megaphone, to be securely held in a standard cup holder and/or to be sized to receive a given volume of fluid within the cup.
